

Gwijde F. J. P. M. Adriaensen

Gwijde Adriaensen, staff member at the Academic Medical Center (AMC) Amsterdam in the Netherlands. Medical specialist in rhinology and rhinoplasty.

Gwijde Adriaensen is a staff member at the otorhinolaryngology department of the Amsterdam UMC location AMC. His medical training primarily took place in The Netherlands with some rotations abroad at Harvard University, Boston, USA. He pursued his residencies at the AMC and did an observing fellowship rhinology and skull base surgery in Varese, Italy. He is part of the rhinology team at the Amsterdam UMC location AMC, focusing on rhinology, rhinoplasty and endoscopic orbital and skull base surgery, providing an International FESS and Rhinoplasty course and hosting a fellowship. He is faculty in numerous courses on rhinology and rhinoplasty in The Netherlands and Europe. His research momentarily focuses on inverted papilloma, postoperative wound healing and orbital surgery. He is member of the European Rhinological Society and European Academy of Facial Plastic Surgery and father to a happy family with three children.